6. DESCRIPCIÓN GENERAL DEL CURSO

El Programa de Inglés del Departamento de Pregrado de la Vicerrectoría de Asuntos Académicos ofrece este curso extracurricular, voluntario y gratuito para estudiantes de pregrado de todas las Facultades de la Universidad de Chile. Este curso no tiene créditos SCT y no puede ser homologado por actividades curriculares de ningún programa o carrera de pregrado.

Con el propósito de contribuir a los procesos de internacionalización y movilidad estudiantil de la Universidad de Chile, en la selección de estudiantes que tienen interés en realizar este curso, se prioriza a quienes estén postulando a becas de movilidad internacional, incluyendo quienes estén realizando su tesis de pregrado. Existen además otros requisitos para postular a este curso, relacionados con un nivel de competencia mínimo en el idioma inglés (nivel B1) y con otros aspectos que se detallan en la convocatoria.

El objetivo de este curso es preparar de manera intensiva a los y las estudiantes para realizar el examen internacional TOEFL iBT (Test of English as a Foreign Language, Internet-based Test), el cual evalúa y certifica habilidades de producción oral, producción escrita, comprensión oral y comprensión de lectura en lengua inglesa. TOEFL iBT es una de las certificaciones de competencia en el idioma más valoradas y solicitadas por universidades e instituciones de educación superior en los procesos de movilidad estudiantil y académica.

7. PROPÓSITO FORMATIVO DEL CURSO

This course aims at delivering the necessary skills and strategies for students to succeed when taking the TOEFL iBT exam. This is achieved by enabling students to understand and learn about the way the exam format works and have a clear idea of what is expected of them at each part of the exam.

8. OBJETIVOS DEL CURSO

1. Familiarize the candidates with the overall structure of the TOEFL exam using authentic materials.
2. Introduce the language and strategies needed for each section of the test.
3. Present candidates with a set of linguistic forms and genres used in academic contexts required for the examination.
4. Train for the exam in a friendly and relaxed atmosphere.

9. METODOLOGÍA Y EVALUACIÓN: PLAN DE TRABAJO

A) Descripción general de la metodología y la evaluación del curso:

The course develops throughout 10 weeks on the basis of 2 1.5-hour sessions per week.

Three 10-hour cycles have been considered, and each covers the four skills assessed by TOEFL iBT: writing, speaking, listening, and reading. Different tasks and aspects of assessment of those skills are dealt with in each cycle. They also include a recycling section for students to refresh and consolidate the contents of sessions up to then.

The sessions have been planned so as to give students the chance to learn about the different sections of TOEFL IBT, their particular features, and the strategies to deal with them successfully.

Classroom dynamics favor interaction among students, mediated by the teacher, with the purpose of encouraging them to discover new knowledge on the test and English in general and be aware of their own strengths and weaknesses. These aspects will then inform the personalized guidance students will receive from their teacher, who will provide them with any extra support they need in terms of follow-up consultations and activities or materials.

The course implies the ongoing analysis of features of academic English. Students are expected to use academic English throughout the practical instances of the course.

Assessment

The course involves continuous assessment through regular personalized feedback provided by the teacher face-to-face or by means of written reports suggesting courses of action students may follow to increase their chances of success. Peer assessment is also promoted and practiced at some points in the course. There are no graded tests.
